

GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN BUSINESS

Master of Business Administration

The Master of Business Administration Program reflects Husson's belief that professional education should involve experiential learning. Active classrooms, courses tied closely to actual management experience, and a diverse student body representing various academic and industry backgrounds contribute to a broader applied education.

Developing Essential Business Skills

The Master of Business Administration Program is a 36-37 credit graduate management curriculum designed to develop and strengthen skills in analysis, decision-making, and implementation. The program balances strengths in the traditional areas of accounting, finance, management, and marketing with careful attention to the development of skills in communication, interpersonal relations, and leadership which are essential to effective performance in organizations.

Students from a Variety of Backgrounds

In the Master of Business Administration Program, there are no undergraduate prerequisites to graduate-level course work. Working professionals with bachelor's degrees from a wide range of fields find the program well suited for continuing professional development.

Students who possess undergraduate degrees in a non-business field, and who do not have significant business-related work experience, are required to take BA 500 MBA Fundamentals in preparation for MBA coursework. BA 500 is a 5-module, online, self-paced, 1 credit course that provides students with foundational knowledge and skills in a range of business education topic areas. Students must achieve a post-test score of 70% or better in each module to successfully complete the course. Students will be required to retake any modules in which they achieve a post-test score lower than 70%. BA 500 must be successfully completed before students can register for additional MBA coursework.

Status

An applicant's admission status is one of the following:

Regular: Students whose applications are complete and who are accepted by the Graduate Admissions Committee without condition are admitted as regular graduate students.

Conditional: In reviewing a candidate's application, the Graduate Admissions Committee may recommend that a student be accepted on a conditional basis. This status is assigned to those students who are taking graduate courses, but whose applications are not yet complete. The letter of acceptance will include the conditions that must be met before the student can be reclassified for regular status. No more than 6 credit hours in conditional status may be applied toward the master's degree.

Non-degree: This status is assigned to those students who are taking graduate courses, but who have not yet applied to the Master of Business Administration Program. Admission as a non-degree student does not necessarily mean that the student will be accepted as a regular student when and if application is made for such status. No more than 6 credit hours in non-degree status may be applied toward the master's degree. Admission to non-degree status requires the submission of official undergraduate transcripts.

Academic Standards

Students must maintain a "B" average (3.0) to continue in a graduate program. A student whose average falls below 3.0, who earns a grade lower than a "C," or who earns more than two grades of "C" or "C+," will be reviewed by the Graduate Academic Program Committee, which may dismiss the student or determine the conditions under which the student may continue in the program. No more than six credits of coursework in the "C" or "C+" range can be applied toward the master's degree. A student who has not attained a grade point average of 3.0 or better at the end of his or her program of study will not graduate.

Students may elect to repeat courses in which they have received a grade of "C" or below, but may not attempt a course more than three times. The newly earned grade will replace the original grade in the calculation of a student's cumulative grade-point average, regardless of whether the new grade earned is higher or lower than the previous grade. The former grade is retained as originally recorded in the student's transcript. Students cannot repeat a course that has been removed from the curriculum unless another course has been designated as an approved alternative for the deleted course. When a student receives a failing grade (X, F, or FW) in a topics course (usually designated by a course number 799) and seeks to repeat the course, the Dean of the school in which the course was offered may authorize a comparable course to be taken as a substitute. The grade in the designated substitute course will replace the failing grade in calculating the cumulative grade-point average.

A student required to repeat a course will be charged full tuition for the course.

Transfer Credit

Normally six credits of appropriate graduate-level coursework, earned within five years of entry into the Husson program, may be transferred from an accredited institution, if the grades earned in such coursework are "B" or better. In special circumstances, an individual who has begun a graduate management program at another accredited institution may transfer up to nine credits from the program, if those credits have been earned within five years of the date of entry into the Husson program.
