

M.S. SCHOOL COUNSELING

The CACREP accredited School Counseling program consists of a minimum of 60 hours of counseling courses that provide students with a thorough background in the areas of individual and group counseling theories and skills; counseling practice; ethical, professional and legal issues in counseling; social and cultural factors in counseling; human development across the lifespan; career development theories and interventions; assessment in counseling, and the application of research, a semester-long practicum and a two-semester internship of at least 600 hours. Graduates of CACREP accredited programs are prepared for careers in mental health, human services, education, private practice, government, military, business, and industry. Graduates are prepared to apply for respective credentials (e.g., licensure, certification) in their specialty area. Working closely with faculty, students will develop a comprehensive understanding of current issues and theories in school counseling and the role of the school guidance program across the domains of academic, career, and social-emotional development. The student will acquire individual and group counseling and classroom facilitation skills, as well as consultation and collaboration skills. The practicum and internship experiences will allow students to apply their understanding of the theory and research in highly supervised K-12 educational settings.

Comprehensive Examination

Students enrolled in the program must pass a comprehensive examination prior to entering internship.

Graduate Requirements

Students enrolled in the program must:

- Have been admitted to degree candidacy.
- Have passed the comprehensive examination.
- Have completed the required course of study with a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or better and satisfactory disposition reviews.
