CERTIFICATE - ANIMAL TRAINING

This certificate program will prepare students to incorporate standards of best practice into animal training plans. With a foundation in animal behavior and animal-human interactions, students will apply training techniques to a variety of species and examine the effects of the environment on training goals. Students will create a unique Training Manual for a species and environment of their choosing for the final certificate project.

Certificate Outcomes

1. Describe the role of animal behavior in animal training approaches
2. Assess the impacts of human-animal interactions on both humans and animals
3. Evaluate standards of best practice in animal training
4. Apply animal training principles to create a species-specific reference manual

Notice: As a student enrolled in Husson University's online animal-focused program/course, you may engage in activities that involve live animals. Such activities are not required by the course and are done on a voluntary basis. Participation in such activities has inherent risks. Neither Husson University nor its faculty and staff are responsible for any injuries, damages, or other harm to self or property that may occur to you and/or the animals with which you engage.
